I hope this email finds you well.

Unfortunately, I was unable to attend today's english lecture due to an illness. I am reaching out to ask if it would be possible to receive a copy of the lecture slides or notes so that I can review the material and stay on track with the coursework.

Additionally, please let me know if any key announcements, assignment details, or schedule updates were shared during the session. I am happy to meet briefly during your office hours if that is more convenient.

Thank you for your time and understanding.

Best regards,
